

BLESSED ARE YOU.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON Ps 105: 47

Save us, O Lord our God! And gather us from the nations, to give thanks to your holy name, and make it our glory to praise you.

1st Reading ZEPH 2:3; 3:12-13

A reading from the prophet Zephaniah

Seek the Lord all you, the humble of the earth, who obey his commands. Seek integrity, seek humility: you may perhaps find shelter on the day of the anger of the Lord. In your midst I will leave a humble and lowly people, and those who are left in Israel will seek refuge in the name of the Lord. They will do no wrong, will tell no lies; and the perjured tongue will no longer be found in their mouths. But they will be able to graze and rest with no one to disturb them.

The Word of the Lord

All: Thanks be to God

RESPONSORIAL PSALM Ps 145:7-10

RESPONSE: Happy the poor in spirit; the kingdom of heaven is theirs!

It is the Lord who keeps faith for ever, who is just to those who are oppressed. It is he who gives bread to the hungry, the Lord, who sets prisoners free. R/

It is the Lord who gives sight to the blind, who raises up those who are bowed down, the Lord, who protects the stranger and upholds the widow and orphan. R/

It is the Lord who loves the just but thwarts the path of the wicked. The Lord will reign for ever, Zion's God, from age to age. R/

2nd Reading 1 COR 1: 1: 26-31

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

Take yourselves, brothers, at the time when you were called: how many of you were wise in the ordinary sense of the word, how many were influential people, or came from noble families? No, it was to shame the wise that God chose what is foolish by human reckoning, and to shame what is strong that he chose what is weak by human reckoning; those whom the world thinks common and contemptible are the ones that God has chosen - those who are nothing at all to show those who are everything. The human race has nothing to boast about to God, but you, God has made members of Christ Jesus and by God's doing he has become our wisdom, and our virtue, and our holiness, and our freedom. As scripture says: if anyone wants to boast, let him boast about the Lord.

The Word of the Lord

All: Thanks be to God

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION Mt 5: 12

Alleluia, alleluia! Rejoice and be glad; Your reward will be great in heaven. Alleluia!

GOSPEL Mt 5: 1-12

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them: 'How happy are the poor in spirit; theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Happy the gentle: they shall have the earth for their heritage. Happy those who mourn: they shall be comforted. Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right: they shall be satisfied. Happy the merciful: they shall have mercy shown them. Happy the pure in heart: they shall see God. Happy the peacemakers: they shall be called sons of God. Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right: theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 'Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven.'

BLESSED ARE THE POOR IN SPIRIT.

When holy Scripture is being read we should look at ourselves as as though in a mirror and consider our state of soul- Let me explain what I mean. We hear the Lord saying: Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. This must make us always examine and test ourselves whenever we suffer humiliation, whenever we are insulted, dishonored, and treated with contempt, to see whether or not we possess the virtue of humility. A person who has it bears everything without feeling hurt or taking offense. His heart is not wounded by anything that happens to him. If he is slightly wounded he is not completely upset; on the contrary, because of that heart wound, simply for having been slightly pained instead of accepting what happened with joy, he is distressed and thinks himself despicable, he grieves and weeps. Withdrawing into the inner chamber of his soul or his cell, he falls down before God and confesses to him as though he had completely forfeited eternal life. Then again we hear: Blessed are those who mourn. Notice that the Lord does not say those who have mourned, but those who continually mourn. Concerning this too, then, we must examine ourselves to see whether we mourn every day, for if we have been made humble by repentance, obviously we shall not pass a single day or night without tears, without mourning, and without compunction. And again: Blessed are the gentle. Can anyone who mourns every day continue to live in a state of anger and not become gentle? Just as water extinguishes a blazing fire, so mourning and tears extinguish anger in the soul so completely that a person who has long been given over to it sees his irascible disposition transformed into perfect serenity. Again we hear: Blessed are the merciful Who, then, are the merciful? Those who give away their possessions or who feed the poor? No. Then who are they? Those who have become poor for me sake of him who became poor for our sake, those who have nothing to give, but who in a spiritual way are always mindful of the poor, me widows, the orphans, and the sick. Seeing them frequently, they have compassion on them and shed burning tears over them. Such was Job, who said: I wept over every infirmity. When they have anything they cheerfully give alms to them, as well as ungrudgingly reminding all of how they can save their souls, thus obeying the one who said: What I learned with pure intention I pass on without grudging. These are the ones the Lord calls blessed, the ones who are truly merciful, for such mercy is like a step by which they ascend to attain perfect purity of heart. The virtue of this God then proclaims the pure of heart blessed, saying: Blessed are the pure of heart, for they shall see God. The purified soul sees God in everything and is reconciled to him. Peace is established between God our creator and the soul, his erstwhile enemy, and it is then called blessed by God for being a peacemaker: Blessed are the peacemakers, he says, for they shall be called children, of God.
